

SALISBURY AT WORK
FORMING A CABINET*ANNOUNCEMENT MADE TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Adjournment Was Then Taken Until Monday—Thought He Must Go To The Country For Endorsement—Joseph Chamberlain Is To Be One of His Advisors—Dissolves July 10

London, June 26.—In the House of Commons this morning it was announced that Salisbury was engaged in the formation of a new ministry, and the house then adjourned until Monday. Yesterday was a day of accomplishment rather than of speculation, and it is apparent the crisis has been temporarily smoothed over, if not entirely passed. The House of Commons held a brief session and adjourned without attempting to transact any business. The Marquis of Salisbury held a conference early in the morning with the Rt.-Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Duke of Devonshire, the Rt.-Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, and others. The outcome of this meeting was a hasty visit on the part of the Marquis to the Queen at Windsor, where it is assumed he presented a list of names of members for a proposed new Cabinet, and that they were approved by her Majesty. Later in the day the official announcement that the Marquis of Salisbury had formally accepted the Premiership had been made by the resignation of Lord Rosebery was made in London. This news created somewhat of a sensation, as it was believed under the existing circumstances the Tory leader would hesitate about accepting the Premiership. The new Ministry as far as completed and officially announced is as follows:

Marquis of Salisbury, Premier and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. The Duke of Devonshire, President of the Council. The Rt.-Hon. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury. The Rt.-Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Rt.-Hon. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty. It is believed the Marquis of Salisbury, before deciding to form a new Ministry, received assurances the outgoing Ministry would assist the new government in passing the estimates in time to enable Parliament to dissolve by July 10.

ENDS A BIG SUIT.The Peralta Grant Case Settled After Twenty-Five Years' Fighting.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 26.—The great Peralta grant, situated in Arizona and New Mexico, and covering 12,465,000 acres of land, which has been on trial for three weeks, was decided yesterday in favor of the government. The court held every title paper to be forged and manufactured and that the mission records of San Salvador, Cal., were forged to enable the wife of the claimant to connect herself with the Peralta family. Chief Justice Reed announced it was not necessary to determine who Mrs. Peralta Reavis was, but it was sufficient to hold that she was not an heir of the alleged grant nor entitled to maintain the suit. The written opinion will be filed by the Chief Justice as soon as it can be prepared. Reavis was arrested by the United States Marshal for asserting false claims against the government, upon complaint made by United States Attorney Reynolds, under instructions by Attorney General Olney, given before he left the department of justice. This practically ends the most stupendous fraud ever attempted in this country, and successfully carried on for over a quarter of a century.

YELLOW FEVER AT SANTOS.Vessel from That Port Brings a Tale of Horror.

Baltimore, Md., June 26.—The American barkentine Priscilla, Capt. Klages, arrived from Rio and Santos, after a voyage of 44 days, with a cargo of 14,254 bags of coffee. The Priscilla's officers report that when she left Santos, May 12, yellow fever was raging on every side, and the scenes in the city and harbor were harrowing. Men were dropping dead in the streets, dying by scores in the city, and on the vessels in port. Some of the vessels had their flags at half mast day after day for weeks, as man after man of their crews succumbed to the scourge. The death boat was being rowed about the harbor day and night, from vessel to vessel, collecting the dead and taking them ashore for burial. Some of the vessels had only two men left of their entire crews, and many of them were unable to get away from the port from the lack of men.

Outrages in China.

London, June 26.—A dispatch from Shanghai says details have been received there of the outrages upon Americans and other foreigners at Ching-Tu, capital of the province of Szechuen, showing that their sufferings have been appalling. The viceroy of the province encouraged the Chinese mob to destroy the missionary and other property, and it is reported a Chinese official attempted to behead Bishop Dunand. The French Minister at Peking has sent an ultimatum to the viceroy at Nanking demanding prompt redress for wrongs done foreigners, and announcing in event of non-compliance with the demands of France, the commander of the French squadron will be empowered to act at his discretion.

Three Killed by Train Wreckers.

Charleston, S. C., June 26.—On the Carolina, Cumberland Gap and Chicago Railroad, one mile from Aiken, S. C., yesterday a freight train, loaded with stone was derailed and wrecked. Hugh Weatherford, brakeman; Fireman Cherry, and a negro named Albert Brown were killed. Two others were badly scalded. Spikes had been placed on the tracks.

ARMS FOR HAWAII.Royalists Still Active in the Little Republic.

Seattle, Wash., June 26.—The schooner J. W. Watson, which cleared from this port last night with 575,000 feet of lumber for Honolulu, intends to take on field pieces, small arms, and ammunition off Cape Flattery. A large shipment of arms and ammunition is now either stored or cached at various points in the vicinity of Everett and Whatcom. After the Watson rounds Cape Flattery it is said she will dump her big cargo of lumber into the sea and take on board the contraband cargo and head for a small island in the Hawaiian group. If her plans do not miscarry an insurrection may be expected to follow.

A bold scheme is said to have been unearthed by the government agents recently. It is said that some San Francisco shippers and a woman in Honolulu who is worth $2,500,000 proposed fitting up a schooner at this port with heavy guns and small arms and then to go to a small island in the Hawaiian group and fortify themselves. It was calculated that the strength of the royalists and the supposed allies of ex-Queen Lilioukalani in San Francisco would help out the scheme. It is also said a certain man in this city, well known for his fighting ability, was offered command of the expedition at a salary of $350 a month. If successful he was to have a high position under the royal government.

Washington, June 26.—It is probable that the government authorities concerned in the execution of the neutrality laws will have to turn their attention to the reported filibustering expedition against Hawaii. Hawaiian officials have been cognizant for some time of the plans at San Francisco to fit out an expedition intended to overthrow the Dole government and their agents on the coast have been active in securing information. News reaching here from Hawaii has shown that the authorities took a grave view of the matter. A small government craft used for customs purposes was fitted up with Gatling guns and sent on a cruise around the islands to watch for the expedition. The land forces under Col. McLean, who recently went from Washington to assume command, were put in readiness for the expected descent. A new Hawaiian law provides for the exclusion of persons suspected of having designs against the government.

It is not known whether the Hawaiian officials have called the attention of the state department to the filibustering plans. It is said, however, that this would not be necessary in order to have the United States authorities act if the expedition has assumed the definite shape stated in today's dispatches from the Pacific coast.

daughter of the countess of Paris and sister of the duke of Orleans. The wedding ceremony was a most brilliant affair. The route from Kingston railway station to the church was spanned by triumphal arches made dazzling with color by a multitude of French and Italian flags and ensigns and by escutcheons representing the arms of Savoy and of the house of Orleans. Enthusiastic masses of people lined the streets of Kingston and cheered the arrivals most heartily.

Mystery Is Partly Solved.

Toledo, O., June 26.—In the basement of an untenanted house on Wisconsin street yesterday a boy while at play discovered the mutilated remains of a woman who is thought to be Mrs. Mary Munday, who disappeared mysteriously several months ago. The body had been decapitated and there were two bullet wounds in the face. The woman's husband left the city suddenly a short time after his wife's disappearance, and the police believed that he murdered his wife. The couple were known to have had many quarrels.

Wild Scene at the Louisville Convention Growing Out of the Majority and Minority Reports of the Committee on Resolutions on the Money Question—Clay Men Get Advantage

Louisville, June 26.—The fight on credentials was a bitter one, and it is conceded that the Clay men got the best of it. The committee on resolutions presented two reports, the majority, the Clay men, favoring the adoption of the national platform of 1892. The minority followed much the same line, but put God and silver on equal terms. John C. Rhea denounced the minority report as well as President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle, and wild scenes ensued.

Louisville, Ky., June 26.—Followers of the administration and Secretary Carlisle, were dominant in the State convention here yesterday. A resolution denouncing the American Protective Association was offered and a commotion was caused by efforts to adopt it without reference. The resolution was referred.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported Congressman A. S. Berry for permanent chairman and other officers adopted. Mr. Berry made a vigorous speech on taking the chair. Senator Lindsey prepared the majority report on resolutions, which embraced a strong money plank and endorsed Cleveland and Carlisle by name for their financial policy and administration. It was signed by nine of the thirteen members of the committee. There were two minority reports, one signed by Rhea and Ellis for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 and the other simply reaffirming the platform of 1892, signed by Clardy and Coulter.

For Mississippi Improvement.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 26.—A convention for the improvement of the Upper Mississippi is now in session here, delegates being in attendance from Grand Rapids, Aitken, St. Cloud, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and from St. Louis. The government will be asked to open navigation on the Upper Mississippi as far as Grand Rapids. This would necessitate a number of canals around falls, but the plan is declared perfectly feasible by Major W. A. Jones, government engineer in charge of the Northwest. H. V. Winchell, of Minneapolis, was made chairman, and E. A. Creamer, of Grand Rapids, secretary.

THREE MEN KILLED
BY HEAVEN'S BOLTS*LIGHTNING DID FATAL WORK YESTERDAY.

Deaths Occurred at Menominee, Mich., Shelton, Neb., and Fulton, Ill.—Panic Among the School Children at a Milwaukee Picnic—Church Destroyed at Peoria.

Menominee, Mich., June 26.—Louis Howe, an employee of the Leisen & Henes Brewing company, was killed by lightning while returning from Peshtigo with a wagon load of empty beer kegs. One of the horses was also struck. The team ran away, throwing the driver out. His body was found near Marinette. Howe was a single man.

Shelton, Neb., June 26.—During a heavy thunder-storm Monday Frank Kilkenny was killed by lightning and his two sisters dangerously injured. When the storm commenced they got into the wagon to go home, when the bolt descended, killing the boy and both horses, and so severely shocking the girls that they were unconscious for some time.

WERE PANIC STRICKEN.Women and Children Caught in a Storm at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 26.—The rain fell in sheets here yesterday and was accompanied by a terrific thunder-storm, which destroyed many trees. Three thousand school children of the Ninth Ward were holding a picnic in the West Side City Park. They sought safety in a densely wooded part of the park. The greatest confusion prevailed. The lightning began to flash and the thunder to roll. The lightning struck a tree near the shelter, when the tree toppled over. It was with the greatest difficulty the children, their teachers, or parents could be kept from leaving the shelter. Eight times in succession did the lightning strike in the neighborhood of the shelter, and eight trees were felled. All the time the panic among the picnicers was increasing, and the rain was falling in torrents.

The children, after the storm cleared up, attempted to leave the park and it was found impossible. The new streets which surrounded it were filled with water four feet deep. The men had to carry the women and children from the park through water waist deep. A beer wagon was pressed into service and carried many through the flood. The street cars could not run on the streets near the park. Even on the streets downtown the water was from four to seven inches deep. The electric storm played sad havoc with telegraph wires.

In the Menominee Valley 600 feet of road bed of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad was washed away and delayed railroad traffic for several hours.

Eagle, Wis., June 26.—One of the hardest rain and wind storms that ever visited this section struck here about 3 p. m. yesterday. Several barns were torn to pieces by the wind and hundreds of shade trees were blown down. The house of C. B. Reeves was struck by lightning. Marshfield, Wis., June 26.—The hardest hail and wind storm ever experienced here struck this city at noon yesterday, breaking windows and stripping off tin roofs. The track of the storm was about a mile wide.

Beloit, Wis., June 26.—One of the severest hail storms ever known here visited this place yesterday afternoon, hail falling as big as lemons and creating great consternation. Reports from the country about here show that the damage to crops is widespread.

Peoria, Ill., June 26.—A severe thunder storm swept the city last evening between 8 and 9 o'clock, during which time the German Lutheran Church, located in the south part of the city, was totally destroyed. Lightning struck it and it burned to the ground. The church was a frame one and was recently erected at a cost of $4,000.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 26.—Heavy rain fell here yesterday accompanied by a hail storm.

Woodstock, Ill., June 26.—The severest rain storm since last September covered this county yesterday afternoon. It came down in torrents and the lightning did some damage.

Quincy, Ill., June 26.—A furious wind and rain storm swept over this city last evening and did considerable damage. Trees were uprooted all over town, windows broken and wires prostrated. At Thirteenth and Spring streets a stable was struck by lightning, and it and five other barns were burned before the fire could be put out. OEDER PLEASES THE SPANIARDSThe Edict Against Filibustering Excites Much Favorable Comment.

New York, June 26.—A special to a local paper from Washington, D. C., says:

"Senor Depuy de Lome, the Spanish minister, was greatly pleased when he learned that orders had been issued for another vessel to sail at once for Cuban waters for the purpose of actively engaging in the business of preventing filibustering parties from leaving American waters and apprehending them if they were successful in such attempts."

"The Raleigh, which was sent south two weeks ago, has left Key West and put to sea. She has been going from one port to another and her movements were easily traced by those interested in avoiding her. By going to sea she will be able to keep her movements and her whereabouts secret and be more apt to be successful in her present undertaking. The administration, however, believes that the Raleigh will not be able alone to cope with the increased activity recently displayed by those who sympathize with the insurrectionists and orders have been issued to the Atlanta to proceed to Cuban waters."

"This cruiser will go at once to Hayti, which will be her ostensible destination. Her main object, however, is to keep a lookout for filibusters and overhaul all suspicious craft from the United States of Cuba. She will be able to sail for three weeks without a supply of coal, but at the end of that time her bunkers will have to be refilled. When that time comes the Atlanta has orders to proceed to Santiago de Cuba for coaling."

"This seems to be a very innocent order, but the appearance of the cruiser at this port, the hot bed of the insurrection, is believed to be for the purpose of letting filibusters know that this country has decided to put out a strong hand to prevent assistance from its citizens in the way of either men or munitions of war. During the time the Atlanta is at sea her movements will be kept secret by the department."

Boston, Mass., June 25.—Frank R. Woodward, correspondent in Cuba for a New York newspaper, is in a Spanish dungeon for visiting an insurgent camp. He was under surveillance and tried to escape on the British steamer Ely, which has arrived here from Banes, Cuba, but the Spanish guards recognized him and then thrust him into prison. He is to be taken to Gibara for trial.

Woodward arrived at Banes from the interior June 16, the day before the Ely sailed. His horse was nearly dead from fatigue and both man and horse were covered with mud. This was what aroused Spanish suspicions. Woodward was ill. He had a lot of notes detailing the strength and movement of the rebels. The Spaniards took them.

Woodward asked Capt. Donovan to notify the press of the United States so as to bring his arrest to the notice of the state department, for he fears the papers the Spaniards seized will be used against him. The Spaniards, it is understood, will charge him with being a rebel officer trying to escape to the United States.

Woodward told the officers of the Ely that 11,000 rebels are about Holguin. There was a rumor in Banes before the Ely left that two other United States correspondents had been arrested near Santiago. The authorities have ordered all correspondents to leave the country.

To Meet for Silver.

Memphis, Tenn., June 26.—An address signed by Senator Harris, Jones (of Arkansas) and Turpie, has been sent to leading Democrats throughout the country. These are invited to meet in Washington Aug. 14, to establish an organization of the Democrats of the several states who favor free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, as a means of controlling the action of the National Democratic Convention of 1896. The three Senators signing the call were appointed a committee to arrange these preliminaries at the recent Memphis free silver convention.

Says The Order Is a Big Bluff—Trouble Follows His Abandoning The House He Was Moving Because He Couldn't Get Under the Street Car Wires.

Eau Claire, June 26.—[Special]—One of the main bridges and prominent thoroughfares, was blocked two days, by a building moved by Captain John Tinker, under a permit from the council. He abandoned the building because he could not move the street railway wires. The street railway is in charge of a receiver appointed by the United States Court and Tinker was served with an order to appear and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court in violating an agreement. Tinker says it is a big bluff and will refuse to go to Madison. There is considerable excitement.

NO BAIL FOR HOWGATE.Will Probably Be Held in Prison Pending Hearing on Appeal.

Washington, June 26.—The case of Captain Henry W. Howgate, recently convicted in the criminal court of forgery and falsification of government accounts, will probably be taken up in the district court of appeals during the first week of October. His counsel are preparing a bill of exceptions to carry the case to the highest court and expect to file it in a few days. The feature of the bill and the point on which the strongest fight will be made is the "fugitive from justice" question. It will be contended that Howgate was fully entitled to the benefits of the statutes of limitations and that the position of the court, as set out in the charge to the jury and in overruling many points made by the defense, was wrong.

The sentence may be pronounced by Judge McComas during the present week, although no date has been fixed as yet. The offenses of which Captain Howgate was convicted make him liable to a sentence of from one to twenty years' imprisonment on each of the two indictments. The probability is that he will remain in jail pending the action of the appellate court, as it is understood bail will be refused if offered.

TALKS OF SILVER.German Diplomat Interviewed by a Washington Reporter.

Washington, June 26.—In answer to the question, "What are the prospects that Germany will participate in an international monetary conference?" Baron von Thielmann said yesterday: "The agitation for silver came mainly from the agrarian population in the North of Germany, and was largely due to the low prices of farm products." He did not believe the Imperial Government would take any step towards the calling of an international monetary conference until after the Reichstag assembled in November, and a great deal then would depend upon that body. When asked if Germany intended to remove the restrictions put in force last summer against American cattle, the Ambassador replied this would not be delayed after Germany was assured that our cattle were free from Texas fever, and he denied positively that Germany's policy respecting American cattle was in retaliation for the differential duty levied by the American tariff law on German sugars.

MOTHER AND CHILD DROWN.Severe Storm Rages in Missouri—Rapid Rise of Waters.

Kirkville, Mo., June 26.—A rain and hail storm raged here last night and reports of the destruction of crops and property are coming in from all parts of Adair county. In Sugar Creek, in the Chariton bottoms, eight miles west of here, Mrs. Stewart and her infant daughter were drowned.

The drowned woman and her two children lived with her father and brother in a tent near Pickler's Big Tie camp, where the men were employed. They had all retired and were aroused by the water rising in the tent. Mrs. Stewart took one child, while her father took the other, and the party attempted to escape. In crossing a creek Mrs. Stewart made a misstep and fell into the water. The current was so swift that the mother and child could not be rescued, and their bodies were not recovered until this morning. A cloud-burst is thought to have occurred.

Tom Johnson Raises Wages.

Lorain, Ohio, June 26.—The Johnson Steel Company posted notices of a 15 per cent increase in wages to the men in the converting mill, dryhouse, and machine shops, in all about 200. The men in the shape mill had their wages raised last week. The increase is entirely voluntary on the part of the company. There will be an advance in all departments by July. The mill is rushed with orders and every branch is running to its fullest capacity.

Louisiana Preacher Shot.

New Orleans, La., June 26.—News has been received here of the killing of Rev. J. J. Wilson, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister of Lincoln parish, this state, by James Howell, whose wife, it is alleged, he had slandered. The preacher was game and fired two shots at his adversary before being killed, neither of which took effect. Trouble had been brewing between the parties for some time.

Lowell, Mass., June 26.—Dick O'Brien, the Lewiston, Me., pugilist, put out Jack McDonough, of St. Paul, in ten second last night. McDonough did not have time to strike a blow.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY THE HIGH WIND

TOBACCO SHEDS AND BARN SUFFER SEVERELY.

One Third of the Tin Roof on The Cotton Factory Blown Into The River—Steamers Were Out in The Gale—Big Chunks Of Ice Fell at Beloit.

Perhaps you noticed the fact that the gale of wind that came to Janesville of its own free will and accord yesterday afternoon, was not of the ordinary brand. It was none of your Rock county zephyrs, but it came from a place where they turn out a pretty fair article and reminded the "old timers" of a certain "big wind" which is sometimes quoted in relation to events both past and present. A big cloud of dust heralded its coming and an instant later the trees began to make their obeisance. Awnings out all kinds of capers and people began to scurry to a place of safety. Then the lining of the clouds that accompanied the breeze parted and the rain drops began to fall. First they came in spits, then in handfuls, and then in gallon measure dashes. Weather prophets predicted all sorts of dire calamities and it looked very much as if they knew what they were talking about. Soon after the reports of the damage done began to come in.

Capt. Buchholz Was Cool. Captain Alex. Buchholz was about half way between Crystal Springs and the city when the storm broke. The Columbia was well loaded with passengers, and when the gale lashed the ripples into waves and the waves into white caps, the timid people began to get frightened. Captain Buchholz assured them that there was no danger, and headed the boat straight into the wind. Soon they reached a sheltered bay, where the boat was run ashore until the blow was over. Afterwards Dr. J. B. Whiting moved that the captain be tendered a vote of thanks for his care and coolness, which motion was unanimously carried.

The Mayflower, also, was just starting out, but turned back in time to reach safe quarters. George M. McKey landed the staunch naphtha launch Lorna just below "Pratt's stumps" and awaited the passing of the gale which went over about as suddenly as it came up. Then the whole fleet set sail again and no accident of any kind occurred in consequence.

Much Damage At Footville. The branch of the gale that paid its compliments to Footville people seemed to be particularly business like. It came bustling in about the same time that the Janesville installment was making things hum, but it had considerable more energy to the square inch. Windmills, sheds and barns suffered severely and when Supervisor H. A. Edgerton came to the city this morning he had quite a formidable list of people whose property had been damaged. Among them were C. Campbell, Ira Fisher, F. Silverthorn, J. Bemis, F. Fitch and Mrs. Jeffris, whose tobacco sheds had a tussle with the gale; L. D. Ellis and John Spoon, whose windmills suffered and Mrs. Downing and T. H. Brown, who had their barns more or less damaged. In addition to this many trees were broken off or blown down and crops were considerably lodged.

A tobacco shed owned by Michael and Dennis Hayes of the town of Janesville was blown down and J. R. Mole, who lives north of the city, had several small outbuildings and a part of his tobacco shed blown down.

Damage at Beloit. Ice fell in chunks at Beloit, and considerable damage was done. The weather had been intensely hot, and the sky suddenly became ink black, and a heavy rain fell, accompanied by great quantities of ice, some landing in chunks as big as a hickory nut. The downpour of hail continued fully ten minutes, and was followed by an electrical storm of brief duration.

There was glass broken in buildings all over the city, and twigs of trees were cut off by the hail. Early reports said that crops, especially corn, had been greatly damaged, but this afterward proved to be untrue. Beloit people said it was one of the worst storms that ever visited that section. The gale surged through Monterey with a mighty roar, and when it struck the tin roof on the lower cotton mills, it made short work of tearing up and blowing one-third of the tin roof into the river. When the wind was doing its best the "Afton bob-tail" with the engine and one car was returning from its usual afternoon trip with the wind in its favor. The trainmen say that when the wind struck the train it seemed as though they were going at the rate of a mile a minute.

The frame of E. H. Barker's new barn on Prospect avenue dissolved like cart. board before the gale and will have to be rebuilt. The porch roof of John D. O'Hara's Second ward home was blown off, and carried clear over the house; one of the chimneys on his dwelling was also entirely demolished. Some of the tin roofing of the livery barn of Murphy & McCue's livery barn was also loosened, but the damage was not extensive. Aside from these accidents and the destruction of shade trees, very little damage resulted in the city. A large number of trees were broken in different parts of town. A handsome hard maple in front of Colonel Britton's residence on Washington street, was split open almost to the ground, and probably ruined. A number of trees in the same vicinity of lesser value were also blown down. A number on North Bluff street had large limbs blown off, and on the east side bluffs the wind did more or less damage. There was a number of trees wrecked in the court house park, one soft maple in the lower part of the grounds near the fountain, being broken off near the ground. The wind also broke the fire alarm lines, causing the fire bell to rattle a few times.

MISS CORNELIUS GIVES A RECITAL

Pleasing Program Was Presented At Her Studio Last Evening.

A recital that was very much enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be present was given by Miss Eulalia V. Cornelius, one of Janesville's most successful teachers, at her studio in the Court street church block last evening. Every number was well rendered and reflected much credit on both teacher and pupil, while Miss Cornelius' solo was exceptionally enjoyable. Those who took part in the program were Miss Myrta Williams, Miss Rose Spivak, Miss Lillian Mount, Miss Tessie Gibbons and Messrs. Frank Gagan, A. J. Gibbons, H. F. Nott, Fred P. Grove, Charles La Pointe and Master Robbie Gordon. Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program and the event was very pleasing both socially and musically. Miss Cornelius leaves tomorrow for her home in Asheville, North Carolina, for the summer, and will return to Janesville again next fall.

The Portland Vase.

Glassmakers at an early day, even before the Christian era, arrived at so great a degree of skill and proficiency as to more than rival anything within the range of modern art. Among the antiques which have been preserved the Portland vase holds first place. For more than two centuries it was the principal ornament of the Barberini palace. Pellat, in his work on the incrustation of glass, says of the Portland vase: "It was found about the middle of the sixteenth century, inclosed in a marble sarcophagus, within a sepulchral chamber, under the Monte del Garmo, 2 1/2 miles from Rome, in the road to Frascati. It is ornamented with white opaque figures in bas-relief upon a dark transparent ground. The subject has not heretofore received a satisfactory elucidation, but the design, and more especially the execution, are admirable. The whole of the blue ground, or at least the part below the handles, must have originally been covered with white enamel, out of which the figures have been sculptured in the style of a cameo, with most astonishing skill and labor." The Duchess of Portland became the purchaser of the celebrated vase which bears her name, at a price of nearly $10,000. Wedgewood was permitted to take a mold from the vase, and he disposed of many copies, in his rich china, at a price of $250 each.—Boston Herald.

CUPID IS KEPT BUSY BY NUPTIAL EVENTS

GOD OF LOVE HAD LITTLE TIME TO REST.

The Cary, Glenn and Hanke-Ryff Weddings Last Evening and the Dugan-Conway and Damphy-Hessian Ceremonies This Morning All Had To Be Seen To.

HE wedding bells rang merrily in Janesville last evening, and sly little Cupid was busy to say the least. His first engagement was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Glenn, 376 St. Mary's avenue, where he saw Miss Grace M. Glenn, daughter of the host and hostess, united in marriage with Roy L. Cary, of Johnson, Rev. A. W. De Pew, of Boscobel, officiating. The money was performed at 5 o'clock, the bride and groom, attended by Miss Minnie Gifford as bridesmaid and Ray Rice as groomsmen, entering the parlor to the music of the wedding march played by Miss Inez Gray, of Milton, and taking their places under a floral arch, when the magic words were spoken. Congratulations and a wedding feast followed and at 9 o'clock the newly wedded couple left for the Chicago & Northwestern depot, where they took the vestibule for Madison.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Glenn and is a young lady who makes friends of all with whom she comes in contact. After finishing her course in Milton college, she took up teaching as a profession and made an unqualified success of the work which she now abandons that she may make a happy home for herself and husband. No fulsome praise need be given her, for true worth speaks louder than adjectives, and high principles count for more than mere eulogy.

Of the groom, naught but good can be said. He is a prosperous young farmer residing in the town of Johnson, and is possessed of all the sterling traits of character that go to make up a successful business man and a good citizen. Mr. and Mrs. Cary will take up their residence on the groom's farm at the conclusion of their wedding trip, and the well wishes of many friends will be extended to them, as the esteem in which they were held was amply shown by the handsome presents that will help to adorn their new home.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cary, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. E. Cary, Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. F. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. James Fred Taylor, Milton; Mr. and Mrs. E. Burdick, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bear, Benjamin Cary, Miss Maud Bear, Robert and John Bear, Janesville; Miss Inez Gray, Milton; Mrs. Call, Indian Ford; Ray Rice and Miss Minnie Gifford, Milton; Miss Georgia Richardson, Alpha, Iowa.

Hanke-Ryff.

After the quiet little god of love had seen his Second ward work completed, he hid himself away to St. Paul's German Lutheran church, where he presided at another happy wedding. The contracting parties in this case were Miss Mary Ruff and W. H. Hanke, and they started out on life's sea under the most auspicious circumstances. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. J. Korrner at 8 o'clock, and took place in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. After the service a reception was given Mr. and Mrs. Hanke at the home of the bride, 305 Locust street, and a whole house full of guests extended congratulations and made merry. The bride is a most estimable young lady, and has made a large circle of friends, while the groom is a popular and progressive young man, he being engaged in the dairy business at Lincoln, Nebraska, which city will be their future home.

Dugan-Conway.

Then cupid took a rest but not a long one. Bright and early he was astir for at 8 o'clock this morning, he had to be at St. Mary's church to assist in the nuptials of Captain Patrick Dugan and Miss Hannah Conway, Rev. R. J. Roche was the officiating clergyman; a pleasant reception followed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Conway of the town of Plymouth and is a young lady of whom all speak in the highest terms. The groom is a well-known resident of this city and for many years has been a trusted employe of Brown Brothers & Lincoln, the shoe dealers. He has also been connected with the fire department for a long time and at present is captain of the East Side hose company. Mr. and Mrs. Dugan have the warmest well wishes of a large circle of friends.

Damphy-Hessian.

Then cupid made a quick trip to St. Patrick's church and saw the culmination of another of his conquests, where the words were spoken this morning, that united Miss Kittle Hessian and John Damphy in the bonds that know no dissolution. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hessian, who reside on the Afton road south of Western avenue and is an expert weaver, at which calling she has been employed for some time. The groom is also a resident of this city and is a young man of whom all people speak highly.

Hall-Lewis.

Cupid's next engagement will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, 20 Williams street, where at 8 o'clock this evening, the marriage of Edward F. Hall and Miss Ida G. Lewis will occur.

The upholstery is of light English tweed and the whole rig is substantially built well ironed, etc. It is the prettiest buggy of the kind ever brought to Janesville and will make a very stylish turnout for somebody." Comical Side of the Medical Business.

Here is an odd testimonial recently received by the Septicide Company. The writer was a confirmed dyspeptic and he now rejoices over his relief in the following unique style:

Dear Sir:

This will let you see how Septicide has done for me before taking it. I could not eat and did not work. CAME NEAR DYING IN A JAIL CELL

"MAYOR" POWERS OF AFTON, HAD A CLOSE CALL.

Was The Drunkenest Man Ever Put In The Bastille, and Now Says He Will Sue the Saloon Keepers Who Drugged Him—Jail Officials Were Alarmed.

The administration of "John C. Powers, the mayor of Afton," came very near being terminated by death at the jail last night.

For an hour they worked over the head of the village government and finally succeeded in bringing him to life.

"I'll soak the saloon that sold that whisky" was Powers first remark and it came in a feeble tone of voice.

Experts in the business said that Powers was the drunkenest man that was ever given quarters in the jail and that means a good deal. He was arrested by the police while amusing a large crowd with dancing and singing and when they locked him up he was speechless. The jail officials made him as comfortable as possible and left him to himself, thinking that he would soon sleep off his debauch, but in the middle of the night Turnkey North was awakened by the sounds that came from Powers' cell and went in to investigate.

Foamed at the Mouth.

He found Powers suffering greatly and groaning pitifully. As fast as the mayor could clear his throat with a spasmodic cough, it would fill up again, and his breathing was labored and unsteady. Foam rolled from his lips, and he was soon taken with a violent chill. Turnkey North and Sheriff Appleby rolled him over and slapped him on the back until he could breathe easier; but they could not arouse him from his lethargy. They worked on him half an hour without awakening him, and then became alarmed. Dr. Whiting was summoned, and succeeded in bringing Powers back to life, but reports from the jail this noon were to the effect that Powers had not entirely recovered. Sheriff Appleby says that the average drunk will get sober in ten hours at the most, so Powers' case must have been a bad one. Powers insists that the liquor he bought at one saloon was drugged, and says he will make it interesting for the proprietors of the place when he gets out.

"I thought Powers would surely die," said Turnkey North last night, "but I guess he'll get along all right now."

A Hint to Bicycle Riders.

There is a little arrangement of my own invention, which many ladies, bicycle riders, have found satisfactory, to adjust an ordinary skirt to a comfortable riding length. About eight inches from the belt sew on the seams on the under side of the skirt little brass rings, about the size of an old fashioned 5 cent silver piece. Then put the rings between the seams, so they are about six or eight inches apart; then sew on another row diagonally opposite these rings, about six inches lower down on the skirt. Through these rings run a stout, black, smooth cord, the ends coming out into the pocket on the right side. By pulling this string and tying it in a single bowknot, and concealing it in the pocket, the skirt is lifted, for riding. When dismounted, by untying the string and giving the skirt a little shake, it assumes the conventional length. This device is perfectly simple. The rings should be sewn on strong and the string smooth.—Mary Sargent Hopkins in Wheelman.

Better Than a Finger String.

Perhaps the most startling suggestion for a "reminder" was that of the little boy whose grandmother had forgotten his Christmas present the year before. She wished to know what thing she should do in order that she should not forget it again. "You might put your teeth in upside down," said the boy.—Youth's Companion.

Not in the Bible.

Nine persons out of ten, if asked where the expression, "God tempests the wind to the shorn lamb," can be found, will answer, "In the bible." But they will be mistaken. This is one of the three or four proverbial quotations generally believed to be in the bible which are not there. It is from Lawrence Stern's famous "Sentimental Journey," in the chapter called "Maria." The other proverbs commonly credited to the bible are, "Cleanliness is next to godliness," which is found in one of John Wesley's sermons, and "Pour oil on the troubled waters," which is derived from a statement in Pliny's natural history, written 1,800 years ago.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years and of late have consumed a 10 cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took Narcoti-Cure, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am gaining flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say use Narcoti-Cure.
Yours truly, W. N. WAITE.

"What a Lovely Complexion!"

"Isn't her complexion charming!" These are expressions we hear every day, made by women in reference to others, which reveal a pardonable envy, and one which can be gratified.

The secret of good health, as indicated by a rich color, and well-rounded figure, is found in a good digestion.

Shopping tours, dances and entertainments indulged in, will leave you utterly fagged out, unless you are obtaining all the value from your food; and it is so easy to accomplish this that you will wonder no one has spoken to you of it before.

Try with each meal, and at bed-time, a wineglassful or more of the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, which you will find to be most acceptable to the palate as a beverage, and will lift you right on to the plane of the vivacious and trim-figured sister you admire so much, and who seems capable of enduring endless fatigue.

Then, again, we must remember the nursing mother, where two lives are dependent upon the proper nourishing of the one. Surely nothing can be more valuable to the mother, nor give more comfort to the baby, by producing a generous flow of milk, than the

GENUINE JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT.

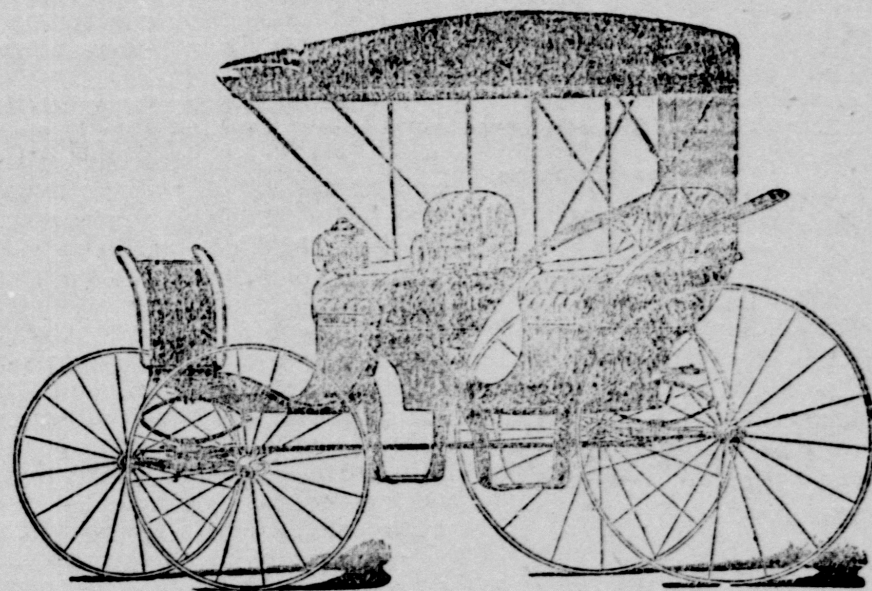

Defective nutrition is the foundation of all ailments. A healthy, well-nourished body can withstand almost any disease. There is resistance power in such a body.

I have been taking the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract myself for a year or so, and find it an excellent tonic and appetizer. Without doubt it is the best Malt Extract in the market.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

- 363—The Roman army defeated the Persians and the Emperor Julian killed.
 1796—David Rittenhouse, early astronomer and manager of the United States mint, died at Philadelphia; born 1732.
 1827—Samuel Compton, inventor of the famous loom, died; born 1758. Compton was an English artisan and at the age of 25 completed DAVID DAVIS, a machine called the spinning jenny, which combined the jenny of Hargreaves with the roller spinning of Arkwright. This machine produced a wonderful revolution in cotton manufacture. The original machine carried only 20 or 30 spindles, but in time 2,300 spindles were attached to a single loom and all of them kept in operation by a single attendant.
 1863—Rear Admiral Andrew Hull Foote, U. S. N., a distinguished naval officer of the civil war, died in New York city; born 1806.
 1886—David Davis, jurist and early friend of Abraham Lincoln, died in Bloomington, Ill.; born 1815.

THE CIRCULATING MEDIUM.

People who are clamoring for more silver, and for more money generally, fail to recognize the most important factor in the circulating medium, and that is confidence, commonly called credit. If the money known as gold, silver and paper was compelled to transact the business of the country, ninety-five per cent of all the men doing business would be compelled to retire within thirty days. The banks of New York City alone are today loaning over $500,000,000, an amount equal to the gold supply of the country, and representing nearly one third of all the gold, silver and paper, that the country possesses. The New York banks like all other banks are able to do this kind of business because back of the loan is the collateral that represents capital and wealth. The money actually used is notes, checks, drafts, and various other kinds of paper that circulates readily, because of the confidence possessed by the business world, in honor and integrity. To maintain this confidence it is just as necessary that every silver dollar, or every paper dollar, should be worth one hundred cents, as that every note or check should be worth what it purports to be. The revival of business that is being experienced is largely due to a revival of confidence. The manufacturer who sells $10,000 worth of goods on four months time taken an acceptance for pay, is able to do business because he believes that the note will be paid when due. He uses it as money at the bank, because the banker has confidence in the maker and endorser of the note. This transaction of every day occurrences, and multiplied a thousand times makes up the business of the country and illustrates the magnitude of this kind of circulation as compared with the metals and currency, usually called money. The men as a rule who demand the manufacture of more money of any kind by the government, are the men whose credit is so badly impaired that the great circulating medium, credit, is an unknown quality with them. The country has money enough, and an ample variety. The world has never discovered but one kind of material that can be successfully used in the greater volume that goes to make up the circulating medium, and that is common honesty and hard common sense. The man who possesses these qualifications, wastes no time in discussing bimetalism, monometallicism, the single standard or the double standard. Life is too short for that sort of nonsense. If he wants money he hunts up his collateral, and gets it. All kinds of money are within reach of every man who possesses the collateral.

The bank of France has a capital of 183,500,000 francs with a reserve of 42,000,000 francs. The stock sells at 3.70. Last year the bank paid a dividend of 3 per cent, the smallest in fifteen years. 258 branches scattered over the country furnish ample banking facilities for the French people. The average rate of interest is 3 per cent.

The gold reserve in the New York banks, which for the past three months has averaged about $70,000,000 decreased four and one half millions last week indicating that the silver craze is on the wane.

John—Do you really believe, Maria, that it will be as bad in the next century as these jokers say—Maria—What?
 "Oh, that the women will be running things and the men will have to stay at home and—
 "And what?"
 "Do the housework—the cooking—"
 "Not a bit of it! You needn't have any fears that woman will ever get to be that big a fool. She has to eat!"—

A TALE OF CONCUSSION.

An Unexpected Obstacle.

Lover (in whisper 'neath window)—
 Are you ready to lower yourself down, darling?
 Isabel E. Loper—Quite ready.
 Lover—Have you got everything?
 Isabel E. Loper—Yes; everything but papa's pocketbook; I couldn't find it anywhere.

Lover (dejectedly)—Alas! for obvious reasons we shall be obliged to postpone our departure. —Boston Courier.

Mature.

Aunt Philida—The last time I went to a grown-up fancy ball I went as a wasp. That was only ten years ago. I don't suppose I shall ever again go to a fancy ball as a wasp.
 Mary—Hardly as a wasp, Aunt Philida. But you'd look very splendid as a bumble bee. —Punch.

Experienced Reasoning.

Millicent—Here comes that horrid Miss Smith! I am sure she will stop and talk to us.
 Lillian—Oh, I don't think she will, my dear.

Millicent—Why?
 Lillian—Because she hasn't anything new on. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Would Make Assurance Doubly Sure.

Freddy—I told Mr. Loveman that you said you were going to kiss him next time he came to the house.

Maud—You horrid boy. What did he say?
 Freddy—Said he wouldn't believe it till he had it from your own lips. —Truth.

He Meant Well.

Certainly—Now, sir, what do you mean by telling people that I had a reputation as a barroom fighter? I have been a most perfect foe of the rum-shops for years.

"Yes. That is what I said." —Indianapolis Journal.

An Alternative.

"When a man's clothes are too loose," says the Manayunk philosopher, "there are two ways of remedying the evil. One is to take them back to the tailor. Another is to get a new boarding house." —Philadelphia Record.

His Bill.

Box—Mr. Dunn called to see about that bill of his.

Mr. Short—Well, if he comes in again, tell him his bill is in a good state of preservation, and is likely to reach a good old age. —Boston Transcript.

Contrary to Common Custom.

Kitty—Do you think it is nice for people to go on calling each other "dear" and "dearie" after they are married?

Tom—It may be nice, but it isn't conventional. —Brooklyn Life.

How to Give Offense.

He—I hear you attend the Handel and Haydn performances. Were you present at the "Creation?"

She (indignantly)—I suppose you will next want to know if I sailed in Noah's ark? —Boston Beacon.

Hardly.

Friend—And do you belong to the Realistic School of Writers?

Author (despondently)—I guess not. I have never been able to realize on any of the stuff I've written. —Puck.

His Kind.

Hills—Are you superstitious?

Mills—Yes. I believe in signs, if that is what you mean.

Hills—Which ones?

Mills—The "S" kind. —N. Y. World.

A Suggestion.

"You're all the world to me," he cried. And she, with gentle mirth.

And tenderness said: "Have you told Papa you want the earth?" —Washington Star.

IN SPECIAL SESSION.

The Illinois Legislature Convened at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—The first meeting of the special session of the legislature was held yesterday. Speaker Meyer took the chair in the House at precisely 2 o'clock. Chaplain Goodspeed invoked the divine blessing. Clerk Reeves read the Governor's proclamation re-convening the legislature, and a roll-call was had, showing there were 139 members present. Then Col. Dose, the Governor's private secretary, brought in the executive's message, and it was read. The new tax levy the governor gives as the main reason for the extra session, though he mentions other measures.

The message was referred to the Committee of the Whole. Mr. Butler's resolution "that all employees on the payroll of the last day of the regular session of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly be reinstated for this extra session and that the speaker be inducted to discharge all such reinstated employees as it becomes apparent that their services are unnecessary" was referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses. A resolution by Mr. Snyder (Dem.), "that in order to expedite business all bills introduced during this extraordinary session be considered in the Committee of the Whole House without reference to any of the usual standing committees," was tabled, $0 to $60. Then a committee was appointed to inform the Governor the House was ready for business and Mr. Muir offered a resolution that the joint rules of last session of both House and Senate be adopted for the present session and that the same joint committees be continued. Mr. Graham had the consideration of the resolution postponed until to-day and the House adjourned to 10 o'clock this morning.

The Senate met at 2 o'clock, with Lieut.-Gov. Gill in the chair. The Rev. T. D. Logan offered prayer and the Governor's proclamation was read. There was nearly a full attendance, the roll-call showing forty-five members present. The Senate after the usual formalities adjourned until to-day at 10 o'clock.

To Dig for Gold.

San Francisco, Cal., June 26.—The Dos Amigos and Eureka mines, situated in the Morris district, Chihuahua, and reputed to be among the largest gold mines in Mexico, have been sold by S. E. Harvar and Captain Alfred Williams to an English syndicate. The price is said to be about $250,000. A fifty-stamp milling plant will be erected by the new owners and the property developed for all that it is worth.

Wanted to Be Married.

Dubuque, Ia., June 26.—Farmer Spitzke's daughter, Mary, 13 years old, eloped from Riceville, Iowa, yesterday with Spitzke's hired man, Charles Robinson, 23 years old. The couple were to have been married here, but an officer arrested them on their arrival, and they were taken back to Riceville.

Cherokee Bill Still Lives.

Fort Smith, Ark., June 26.—Cherokee Bill was not hanged yesterday, a stay of execution having been granted, pending his appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. Charles Smith and Weber Isaacs, who were to have been hanged, likewise appealed and were granted respites.

Opened After Five Years.

Denver, Colo., June 26.—The Alpine tunnel on the South Park road, said to be the highest railroad tunnel in the world, was reopened yesterday. It has been snowed up the last five years. The tunnel is at an altitude of 11,660 feet, is 1,776 feet long, and was bored nine years ago at a cost of $260,000.

Unfortunate Error.

From the Plunkville Bugle: "The lack of local news in our issue this week must be laid to the printer. Our best reporter, who interviewed Col. Hotpepper on the financial situation, wrote that the genial colonel spoke by the card. The fool printer put it up that the colonel spoke by the yard, and the colonel, in our absence, held the reporter responsible." —Indianapolis Journal.

Basis of a Compromise.

Mr. Winterbottom—Emily, the doctor says all we need for these colds of ours is whisky and quinine.

Mrs. Winterbottom—Cyrus, if you think you're going to get any whisky down my throat you are much mistaken!

Mr. Winterbottom—And I haven't a particle of faith in quinine. So I bought them in separate packages. Here's your quinine. —Chicago Tribune.

No Reduction Accepted.

The count came near and whispered softly.

"I am ready," he said, "to make a sacrifice for you."

She gestured deprecatingly.

"Sacrifice?" she repeated. "No, Reinald. I am able to pay the regular price."

She smiled, as in the consciousness of power. —Detroit Tribune.

Saloon Men Will Have To Deposit The Amount Fixed By the Last Election Or Close Their Places—City's Answer Not Yet Made Out—Other City News.

There have been no new developments in the celebrated case of Ennis against the city of Janesville, which involves the validity of the $500 license fee. The papers were served on City Attorney McElroy last Saturday but the city attorney has ten days in which to make answer which gives him until next Tuesday. Before that time, however, the license of every saloon keeper in the city will expire, and the common council will have acted on new applications. It is reasonably well known that neither the mayor nor the aldermen will favor any compromise under the circumstances, and that unless the $500 is placed in the hands of the treasurer, no license application will be considered, as the council cannot do otherwise. Therefore, it is safe to predict, that those who are anxious to continue in the business will put up their money, and those who fail to comply will be closed on Tuesday.

If we should say that we were going to give every person who called at our store $1 for every 50 cents they brought us, we would not doubt have to employ special police to keep back the crowd. DIVINE NEAR DEATH BUT SAVED BY BOYS

CLERICAL CANOEIST HAS A CLOSE CALL.

The Boat of Rev. C. P. Dorsett of Delafield Military Academy Capsized In The River Near Crystal Springs Yesterday Afternoon, and His Youthful Companions Rescue Him.

The gale that came rushing down the river yesterday afternoon, came very near being the cause of the death of Rev. C. P. Dorsett and he was rescued from the river only by hard and prompt work.

Rev. Mr. Dorsett is a member of the faculty of St. John's Military academy at Delafield, Wisconsin, and he and three pupils of the school, Otto Wesmendorf, James Hall and Lewis Fogle were spending their vacation by means of a canoe trip down Rock river. They traveled in two boats, Rev. Mr. Dorsett carrying the camp equipment and baggage of the party in his boat, while the three boys navigated their own craft. They came all the way from Delafield, Waukesha county, by water, and had descended Rock river as far as Crystal Springs, without an accident. They put out from that resort at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and had just reached the bed in the river below "Pratt's stumps," when the storm broke over them with terrific force, and they scudded for the shore.

Rev. Dorsett's Canoe Capsized.

The waves began to run pretty high by this time and as Rev. Mr. Dorsett's boat was quite heavily loaded he had some difficulty in managing it. He was headed toward the shore and was making good time for land, when a gust of wind caught him, whirling the boat back into the trough of the waves. At the same time a huge white cap came rushing down on him, and quick as a flash the boat was overturned and Rev. Dorsett was struggling in the water. He succeeded in rescuing a heavy satchel and some other things that he did not wish to lose but in the meantime he had become very tired and when a wave rushed over his head it left him bewildered. At the same time the wind blew his boat away from him and he was left struggling in the water. Twice he had gone under and it was seen that he must have help soon as he was hampered by his heavy clothing and the sea that was running, but there was no one that could go to his assistance. He was able to keep his head above water but each wave washed over him.

Boys Saved Him.

Then Rev. Dorsett called for help and the boys, who did not know of the plight that he was in heard his hail. Looking about they saw him struggling in the water and urged their boat toward him. When they got near him one of the lads plunged into the river and swam to the clergyman's assistance and helped him until the other two lads could work the boat against the wind and pick them both up. They were then able to reach the shore and the runaway boat was picked up after the gale moderated. The party came on to Janesville after the accident and put up at Holt's Railroad Hotel where they remained all night drying their clothes and preparing to resume their journey.

"It was rather an unpleasant experience," remarked Rev. Mr. Dorsett. "When I came up I was under the boat and it then floated away from me."

The party was bound for Rock Island and at that place they expected to ship their boats and go home on the train.

Many excursionists got left. Train for the Dells this morning left on time.

There were many disappointed people at the St. Paul depot this morning where they had congregated to go on the excursion to the Dells of the Wisconsin. The train which was scheduled to arrive at 7:30 came into the Janesville yards on the very minute and left on time. It had no more than gone before people begin to arrive supposing that this like other excursions, would at least be half an hour late in starting, but they found that they had miscalculated and if they wanted to see the Dells they would be compelled to walk.

LOCAL HORSES HAVE THE COLIC.

Janesville Liverymen Are Kept Up Nursing These Sick Animals.

For some time past local liverymen have been contending with an epidemic of colic. The disease, during the past week, seemed to be at its worst, for local veterinary surgeons were on the go all the time answering calls, which proved in nearly every instance to be cases of colic. One liveryman had six cases at one time in his barn, but being somewhat of a doctor himself he brought them through all right.

DIXON IS IN JAIL FOR THE SUMMER

PLEADED GUILTY TO A LAR- CENY CHARGE.

Police Arrested Him a 8:30 Last Evening For Robbing Lunde's Tailor Shop and He Acknowledged The Crime—Two Beloit Suspects Are Held—Try Ryan July 8.

Benjamin Dixon was arrested at the St. Paul depot at 8:30 o'clock last night by Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan charged with robbing the tailor shop of H. Lunde in the Tallman block, some days ago. Dixon admitted the theft and made a full confession to Chief Acheson when locked up. This morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Phelps gave him a sixty day sentence.

For some time past the police have suspected Dixon of the job and have been watching his movements. Last night Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan were driving down west bluff street when they spied their man and got him at the depot. While the officers say but little it is intimated that Dixon may have been mixed up the other bungling pieces of work about town as he is the young man who recently had a head-end collision with a club in the hands of Master Mechanic J. C. Fox, who found him prowling around the Fox home in the middle of the night. H. Lunde made the complaint upon which the arrest was made charging Dixon with appropriating two pair of trousers, a coat and vest, of the value of $10.50, belonging to him, which were taken away from his tailoring establishment on May 28.

Beloit Suspects in Jail.

City Marshal George Appleby of Beloit, brought up two alleged crooks, his afternoon, who with four others were arrested in that city yesterday. A large amount of jewelry, cutlery, etc., was found with the two who were detained for further investigation, the officers being certain that the prisoners knew something about the burglary of a certain jewelry store in Illinois recently.

"They had a lot of watch chains worth all the way from 75 cents up to $5 each and an assortment of gold rings, some solid gold, and other jewelry, including lockets and a general assortment of knives just the kind of stock for a country store," explained Sheriff Appleby. "We intend to hold to hold two of them for a little further investigation."

To Try Ryan on July 8.

The case of the state against Patrick alias "Boliver," Ryan, of Beloit, charged with stealing a few potatoes and some honey, valued at a little over one dollar, was called in the municipal court this morning. Ryan pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set for July 8. Ryan has served his time in the "pen," and appears to be very much unconcerned as to the outcome of the present trouble, which may land him again in Waupun, although he is a young man, and does not appear to be a very bad character. F. C. Burpee was appointed by the court to defend him.

THEY HAVE 3,000 CHAIRS ON HAND.

Big Stock Piled Up in The Victor Works Storehouse.

Since the burning of the Victor works there has been a large stock of chairs piled up in the storehouse. Yesterday an inventory of the stock was taken and it was found that there were in the neighborhood of 3,000 chairs now on hand. The chairs are mostly of the cheap dining room variety, with rockers to match. Orders are received daily for these goods from all parts of the country, and Shipping Clerk Charles Smith is kept busy filling the orders. At the time of the burning of the works they were making a better grade of leather seat chairs, but only a few of these remained on hand. No definite arrangements have yet been made as to what will be done with the storehouse, but with the extension of the water works, knowing ones predict that a factory to replace the burned one may be built.

A LOVE SONG.

My little leaves, why are you glad?
Answer, quivering little leaves,
Small clapping leaves, so freshly clad
In a green world that never grieves.
Answer me, for my heart is sad!
Love God, love God! they sing,
Gay as the birds a-wing.

My little flowers, what's your delight?
Now answer, for my soul believes
In your sweet petals, pure and white,
Sweet purity no man deceives.
Answer, my flow'rets fair and bright,
Love God, love God! they sing,
Gay as the birds a-wing.

Fresh blades of grass, you cheerful seem.
What is it that all grief relieves?
Thick ye upspring, a fair sunbeam
In your low stems its brightness weaves.
How do you keep that sunny gleam?
Love God, love God! they sing,
Gay as the birds a-wing.

The flowers and grass make their reply,
With all the merry clapping leaves,
And echoing the holy cry
The drooping heart its joy retrieves.
All voices to their Maker fly.
Love God, love God! they sing,
Gay as the birds a-wing.

FIRST LOVE.

I have for years led a roving life and am most at home in railway carriages, waiting rooms, hotels and restaurants. On this account my reading has been of all kinds, and I have given up wishing to be dainty in my literary diet. Only German and French romances and novels by authors unknown to me, or writers whose style I do not enjoy, inspire me with an unconquerable respect.

Books by these authors I never venture to open, even in the greatest dearth of reading matter. Besides I eagerly welcome everything published by the latest journals and look through each weekly and monthly periodical that I come across in dining or waiting room.

That is why I have a succession of fragments of a considerable number of stories in my head, and as their classification does not especially interest me it thus happens that I occasionally join the end of one to the beginning of the other. Some of these dovetailed stories please me quite as well as the noted novels of famous authors.

This is a matter of taste, and I allow myself no criticism. Sometimes I finish for myself a story, the beginning of which I have read, or invent the first chapter for the conclusion of a romance which has fallen into my hands. Then, after a time, it is difficult to distinguish between what is mine and what is not mine. In most cases indeed I have of a morning when I leave a city forgotten what I have read there on the preceding evening. But when a story has pleased me I enjoy repeating it to myself in the railway carriage, and then it becomes fixed in my memory and recurs later, at irregular intervals, as something personally experienced or again invented by myself.

The following narrative is one of these tales. I have forgotten where I read it for the first time. Whether the tale was exactly as I now have it in my mind I do not any longer know. But the idea is not mine. I believe I found it in a Paris review. Then it must have been many years since, for several omnivorous readers among my French acquaintances, of whom I made inquiry regarding that easily recognized sketch, could not remember to have read it. It is also possible that I found it in Berlin or London. Should the owner at any time reclaim it, I will return his property with thanks. Here is the story as it has shaped itself little by little in my head:

The numerous guests of the countess had been slowly retiring since 11 o'clock, and about 12 there were only some half dozen people assembled in the salon, the very intimate friends of the house. The handsome Palamede had pronounced his verdict upon the notable toilets of the evening, Rene had recounted the last duel, Edmond the last steeplechase. The scandal of the day had been commented upon in the usual philanthropic fashion, and for the first time for half an hour the conversation had languished.

The countess turned to her neighbor, the quiet Gaston.

"You are making more noise than usual this evening," said she. "You have been sleeping this half hour with open eyes." The gentleman addressed, who had been sitting upon a low chair, earnestly engaged in keeping up a fire in the chimney, in which he had displayed the ability that, according to a French proverb, is a privilege of lovers and philosophers, turned slowly and made answer, "I am thinking of my first love."

"Gratitude does honor to the receiver and to the giver alike," said the countess. "Tell us the story of the first love that still makes you dream today."

Gaston slowly rubbed his thin hands, as was his habit, and without waiting for further urging began as follows:

"When I say my first love, I do not mean the very first. This indeed caused me in its time much pain and anxious joy, but that is long since forgotten. Many a time, when I now recall it, it seems as though I thought of another's love tale and not my own. I was at the time perhaps 12 or 13 years old, and she was the sister of my schoolfellow Jacques."

"I saw her for the first time upon our playground, where she appeared with her mother, during an intermission, to see her brother. It was winter. The yard was full of snow, and a fierce battle waged between the opposing factions into which the school was divided. At the moment when I saw her at the entrance to the playground, a harder snowball hit me on the head, so that I fell down unconscious. A few minutes after, when I again came to myself, I was sitting upon a chair in the porter's room, and both ladies, the mother and sister of my friend, stood near and regarded me anxiously."

"The next morning she caused inquiry to be made after my health through Jacques, and on the following Sunday I called upon her. I spoke no word. I ventured scarcely to raise my eyes, but I would willingly have thrown myself a thousand times into fire or water to again draw upon me the solicitous glance of the beautiful maiden.

"In the evening I invented for myself the most marvelous heroic deeds where-with I would fain have aroused her astonishment and compelled her admiration. Anything else I neither desired nor expected. The unconscious dawn of love in the heart of youth belongs with its peculiarities only to pure childhood."

"The young heart is foolishly happy in sacrifice, quietly content and blindly conceited and vain. It cannot yet love, it needs but to be loved and admired; to bestow happiness is not its object, and the only joy it knows is a blissful unrest; its only need, to receive love without bestowing it. In after years one gives without receiving and is very well off with that. So everything in the world is arranged in the best manner, where there are people who find their joy in giving, and others who are happiest in receiving."

"But how short and sweet is the one time when one gives and receives, when one loves and is beloved! I have known it, but she who then made me so inexpressibly happy has now left me. How beautiful was the world when I saw it with her; how blue the heaven; how soft the air! We hastened, hand in hand, from place to place, and wherever we went, laughingly joy stepped forth to greet us, begging us to linger. We went laughing, singing, rejoicing along, assured of our good fortune everywhere."

"Sometimes our riotous delight, overstepping all bounds, startled sober people. But the stern glance softened when it rested upon us: 'They are young. Let them enjoy themselves,' said the old, and went along sorrowfully smiling. She clung so tightly to my arm, she nestled so closely to my side, that I thought I could never lose her. The idea of a possible change never came to me, never troubled me. Thus I lived a long time. Weeks, months, years flew by, and I heeded them not."

"One evening, after we had spent the day yet more madly and merrily than usual, she suddenly appeared to me discontented and cold. A terrible fear which I am not able to describe fell upon me. An icy coldness crept over me. 'She will leave you,' said I to myself, 'certainly, surely, she will leave you.' It occurred to me how little I had really concerned myself about her, how I perhaps had expected too much of her truth and constancy. For the first time I felt my trust in myself and in her waver, and anxiously I gazed into her eyes. But her glance turned wearily from me and gave me no answer."

"My rest was gone, my life no more the same. It is true she still pressed me impetuously to her bosom again and again, but the sweetness of her kiss had vanished. Often she pushed me coldly away, and I saw to my unutterable sorrow that my love wearied her. And when I once at a later hour returned home, tired and dejected, I found the room dark, cold and empty. She, my joy, my light, my all, had vanished."

"Now began a miserable existence for me. The loss that I had suffered gnawed at my heart, but my care was to conceal this loss from the world. I endeavored to show a cheerful, happy countenance. I sought the society of gay young people. I bestowed great and hitherto unknown and ridiculed care upon my person and toilet. My enemies said of me that I had for a long time rouged in order to hide the paleness of my cheeks. That is not true, but I may as well confess that I bought a little flask of newly invented tincture that was to restore the color of youth to my whitening hair."

"This hypocritical farce did not long continue. I was soon tired of the strife, and today the opinion of the world troubles me no more. I know that my darling has left me; that nothing will bring her back, and every one who knows me may perceive and recognize in my appearance the loss which I suffered. But I ever lament the lost one. She is wanting everywhere. Nothing, nothing can take her place to me, and I would willingly give everything I possess and every joy and happiness that is prepared for me to once again call her mine, to once more live through that beautiful, fleeting time, during which alone I was happy."

Gaston ceased, and stared fixedly into the dying fire, and fell to the characteristic, slow rubbing of his emaciated hands.

"What is the name of this wonderful being?" asked the countess.

"My youth," answered Gaston, without turning his eyes from the fire.—From the German For Short Stories.

Chinese Money.

It is held by some that the coinage of China was invented especially for the confusion of the foreigner. At any rate, two market villages 20 miles apart are quite certain to have a different rate of exchange, and—but this may be only a coincidence—the foreigner is not the one who profits thereby. Thus, suppose you tender $1 at Stone Umbrella mart, and after much weighing and testing thereof are given in exchange 1,030 brass coins strung on a string, of varying weight and thickness.

Arrived at the Plain of Peace, you buy $1 worth of fowls, and put down your 1,030 coins, only to be told that the exchange is 1,160, and you have to find the balance. Next day, having invested all your savings in cash, you return to Stone Umbrella, intending to buy up all the silver in circulation at the lower rate of exchange.

Alas, for your hopes! You are met with a chilling, "These cash are ten parts—i. e., 100 per cent—worthless," and in corroboration of his statement your would be victim points out, or pretends to point out, the absence of certain blurs on the horrid little rings of brass.—Blackwood's Magazine.

The Brazilian morning glory will prove a pleasant surprise to those who have not yet grown it. It is as easy of cultivation as the old fashioned morning glory. You Don't Have to Swear Off says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture in an editorial about No-To-Bac the famous tobacco habit cure. "We know of many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one, a prominent St. Louis architect, smoked and chewed for twenty years; two boxes cured him so that even the smell of tobacco makes him sick." No-To-Bac sold and guaranteed by E. B. Heimstreet. No cure, to pay. Book free. Sterling Remedy Co., New York or Chicago.

A TRUE STORY.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $25.38; the month before $18.58 and at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location, can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

Two Great Excursions to Boston.

Via the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Ry., one in July and one in August. One fare for the round trip. Stop over at Niagara Falls and Saratoga if desired; also by boat one way between Albany and New York at the option of the passenger. Stop can also be made at Chautauque on return trip. Regular summer tourists tickets to the many delightful mountain, lake and seaside resorts of the east are now on sale. Complete list of rates and rates with any further information desired will be promptly furnished on application. M. S. Giles Pass. Agt., Chicago.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth, Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Christian Endeavor Excursion to Boston.

For the above event the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell excursion tickets at half fare, over any eastern line, on July 5 and 8. Tickets limited to 30 days. Going one route and returning over another route adds slightly to the cost of tickets and varies according to routes chosen. Information as to this matter may be obtained at the ticket office of the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Our 9:55 a. m. train makes connection at Chicago with all eastern trains. Reservations in sleepers secured in advance.

The Point of the Pistol Is an effective persuader, and there are many persons so unimpaired of the symptoms of oncoming disease that it would almost take that deadly argument to induce them to adopt precautionary measures. The best of these is a recourse to that fine botanical restorer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It vanquishes malaria, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, failing digestion, biliousness, and irregularity of the bowels, and completely fortifies the system against their further inroads. Its ingredients are drawn from nature's storehouse, consequently it is free from the objections attaching to many absolutely or semi-mineral remedies. For the delicate, infirm, convalescent and elderly it is peculiarly beneficial. It will merit continuous and systematic use. Take it at bed time to induce sleep, and between meals to stimulate appetite and digestion. The medical fraternity concur in endorsing it.

Fourth of July Rates.

On July 3 and 4 the Northwestern Line will sell excursion tickets at low rates to local stations within two hundred miles, good for return passage until July 5, 1895, inclusive. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

LINCOLN'S HOMELY PHRASES.

Sumner Criticised His Speeches for a Lack of Dignity.

I have said that some of Lincoln's more fastidious critics had objected to certain of his off-hand phrases, which readily took with the multitude, and which more graphically conveyed his meaning than those commonly used by the scholars. Against advice, he had, in a formal message to Congress, adhered to the use of the phrase "sugar-coated pill." He argued that the time would probably never come when the American people would not understand what a sugar-coated pill was; and on this historic occasion he used another favorite figure of his when he said, "Concede that the new government of Louisiana is only to what it should be as the egg is to the fowl, we shall sooner have the fowl by hatching the egg than by smashing it." But it turned out that Senator Sumner, for one, was no better pleased with this metaphor than he had been with others on previous occasions; for in a letter to Dr. Lieber of Philadelphia, next day, he wrote: "The President's speech, and other things, augur confusion and uncertainty in the future, with hot controversy. Alas! alas!" And still later in that year Sumner said: "The eggs of crocodiles can produce only crocodiles, and it is not easy to see how eggs laid by military power can be hatched into an American state."

Years have passed since then, and the grave has long since closed over the President and the Senators who opposed his policy and his judgment. Posterity has vindicated the wisdom of Lincoln, and has dealt charitably with the errors of those who in their day lacked that charity which is now entreated of mankind for them. That they meant well, that they were patriotic, that they were sincere, no man can doubt; but as we turn our thoughts backward to that April night when the great President made his last public speech to a silent and wondering crowd, we may well regard his figure with veneration and reverence, aware now, if we were not then, that he builded better than they knew.

In the general jubilation of that hour, however, there was very little criticism of the President's last public speech. It was felt, perhaps, that the man who had brought us safe through the great trial of our strength and patience, himself strong and patient, might well be trusted with the adjustment of terms of reunion. Reunion was then the foremost thought in the minds of men. Slavery was dead, peace had returned, and henceforth the grateful task of reuniting the long-estranged brotherhood of the states was ours. Is it any wonder that men fairly cried with joy when this happy consummation rose in their minds?

But even when we stood under the light of a new day, joyful as a people, triumphant as citizens, there was preparing for us a portentous and inconceivable disaster.—Noah Brooks in the Century.

Madrid, June 26.—The chamber of deputies yesterday rejected by a vote of 69 to 53 a proposal to abolish the export duty on grain.

A Store's Popularity...

It does not come by accident; there must be something more tangible than mere happenstance to bring a store into popular favor. Take for example this store: where in all Janesville or in the surrounding towns will you find the economical woman who does not know of ARCHIE REID'S and of the substantial bargains always to be found here? It is just the idea of always having the right thing and of always having it at a little lower price than our neighbors, that has made this store the Mecca of bargain seekers; it is such values as follows that make women turn to this store when in quest of anything in the line of reliable merchandise at a price.

- Fifty dozen full size Gingham APRONS, made from standard apron check gingham, at... 9c
- One more case of the "Royal Stainless" Ladies' fast black HOSIERY, high spliced heel, fine gauge; instead of a quarter..... 19c
